KIDNAPPER IS LET GO ON HIS PROMISE

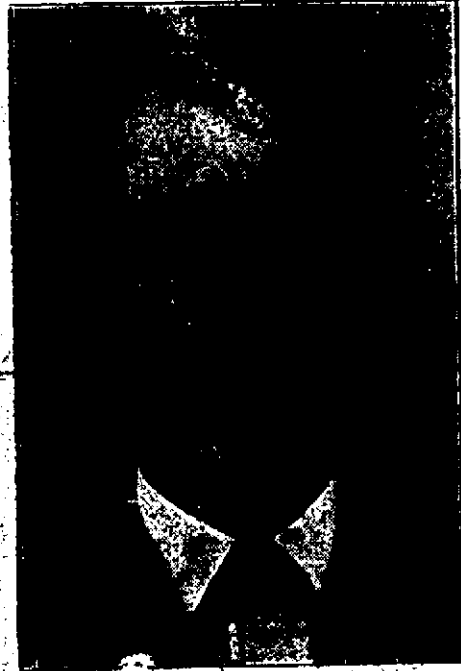

Leaves And Wont Return—Constable Was Ready For Regiment

Jack Wade, who kidnapped his own child on Walnut street Wednesday morning and was caught at Isleta the same afternoon, was brought in to the city at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, with Officer Jackson at the helm, and taken before Squire Winmer. The wife was there and the court tried to effect a reconciliation but without avail.

Wade paid the costs and Agreed to Get Out of the community at once and not again bother the mother or child. He left vowing he would obtain a divorce and have the courts award the little girl to him. The wife makes the same declaration, and that she will legally have the child.

Thus ends the chapter, but there were several interesting incidents.

In the first place Officer Jackson was led on a wild goose chase of six miles because of the statements of an amateur detective who put him on wrong and the officer declares no more of that Sherlock Holmes for him.

When the officer got word that the man was held near Isleta he left at once taking Warner Seward along to drive back one of the wagons.

"When we arrived there we found Constable Poland and two deputies and they had their man," he said.

"The constable said that from the word he had received he understood that a band of gypsies had the child, and he and his husky assistants were prepared for a battle with the gang and they meant business too.

Wade offered no resistance and was quite passive. I had him on several counts if I had wanted to press them, but we thought it better to get the child and send him on his way. He had till it had to jump instead of walk.

Then he had but one bed in his wagon and he and his hired man and the child would all have had to sleep together. It is no place for a little girl."

The child herself seemed satisfied whichever parent she was with and her only fear was that she was going to be placed in jail.

Officer Jackson is in possession of a clipping from the Parkersburg Journal which shows that a year ago that Wade at New Matamoras, Ohio, and that she had been left in destitute circumstances.

Credit is due not only to Mr. Jackson but to Constable Poland and his deputies, for while they took him easy they were ready to land a score of swarthy Bohemians if necessary.

COAL MAGNATES SOUGHT FAVORS

Pennsylvania Railway Officials Are Presented With Stock.

REVELATIONS AT INQUEST

Money Also Said to Have Been Used With the Object of Securing Better Facilities From the Corporation. Important Witnesses Before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Philadelphia, May 17.—Three important witnesses were heard during the inquiry of the interstate commerce commission into alleged discrimination by railroad companies in the distribution of cars to operators in the soft-coal fields.

Interesting testimony was offered by George W. Creighton, superintendent of the Pennsylvania division of the Pennsylvania railroad; R. K. Cassatt, son of President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad and eastern manager of the Keystone Coal and Coke company, and John M. Jamison of Greensburg, Pa., president of the Jamison Coal and Coke company.

Mr. Creighton admitted that he held stock in several coal companies, and that the stock had been presented to him. Mr. Jamison testified that his company had presented Pennsylvania railroad officials with stock in his company, with the object of securing better treatment and facilities from the corporation. He also said that Robert Pittsford, now assistant to President Cassatt, had declined a proffer of stock, saying that he preferred the money. Mr. Jamison bought the stock back from him for $5,000.

R. K. Cassatt told the commission that at one time, when the Pennsylvania Railroad company was suffering from a scarcity of coal cars, it had relinquished its claim to 500 cars ordered from the Pressed Steel Car company and that the cars had been purchased by the Keystone Coal and Coke company. Another interesting witness was G. W. Clark, Pennsylvania railroad car distributor at Altoona. He told of having received monthly a check for $50 from Captain Alfred Hicks, a mine operator, and stated that he did not know why the money was sent to him.

The North American says: "Circumstantial reports that Alexander J. Cassatt has determined to resign the presidency of the Pennsylvania Railroad company in consequence of the startling disclosures in the railroad coal investigation reached the interstate commerce commission. It is said that before leaving for Europe last week Mr. Cassatt told some of his closest personal friends that he has been grossly deceived by subordinate officers of the Pennsylvania railroad concerning the actual facts and conditions in the management of the company. These intimate friends were assured by Mr. Cassatt that he had relied upon statements made to him which, in the light of recent developments, have proved false."

AN INTIMATE FRIEND OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Jacob A. Rils, reporter and author of several noteworthy books, among them "How the Other Half Lives," is a warm admirer of the president, and the friendship is reciprocated by Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Rils was born in Denmark in 1849 and came to America when he was past thirty and went to work as a reporter, having learned English in Denmark. He has written a very interesting life of Mr. Roosevelt.

"13" HAS NO TERRORS FOR BEN'S LAWYERS

File Affidavits But None On Juror Suntheimer--Dickerson May Be Sentenced Tomorrow

Ben Dickerson's attorneys evidently have no fear of the old hoodoo 13, for that number figures largely in the affidavits they filed Thursday morning with the county clerk's office in preparation for the hearing of their petition for a new trial, that will come before Judge Eason Friday.

Each one of the attorneys for Dickerson, Messrs. Voorhees, Adams, Roche and Daugherty files his affidavit in support of "reason 13" in the motion for a new trial, and each affidavit is identical, declaring that people were allowed to about the attorneys and "embarrassed and interfered with the discharge of the duties of the attorneys for the defense," and that the crowd exhibited "hideous mirth" and when the court reproved them he always complimented them also.

The only other affidavit filed is that by The Age to the effect that the interview granted by Judge Eason that "it was a hideous crime" was a true item. Even that does not escape for it was printed on March 13.

No affidavits are filed against Juror John Suntheimer, when the motion for a new trial said had expressed his opinion against the accused man.

"What time do you expect Judge Eason" was asked the clerk, the attorneys for the defense and the county prosecutor. "We'll tell you that tomorrow" was the universal answer. The judge is expected to arrive Friday afternoon. He is now said to be holding court in Millersburg.

Thief Stole $300 From Next Door To City Hall

Ad Zugschwert is out $300, stolen on Main street just west of the city hall.

When he went home Wednesday noon he was surprised to find the front door standing wide open and also the door leading into his bedroom. He at once thought of his money and search showed it was gone. There is no clue to the thief.

Raymond Rodgers and Ernest Betts were in Zanesville Wednesday attending the Forepaugh-Sells circus.

RATE BILL IS READY FOR FINAL ONSLAUGHT

REPORTED TO THE SENATE

Committee of the Whole Concludes Consideration of Rate Bill.

ADOPT ANTI-PASS FEATURE

Senators Bailey and Tillman Make Personal Explanations and Chandler's Statement Is Read—Raps at Newspaper Correspondents and the White House.

Washington, May 17.—Consideration of the railway rate bill in committee of the whole having been concluded, the measure was reported to senate, where there will be opportunity to review and alter all the amendments heretofore made. Practically the entire session was devoted to consideration of the anti-pass amendment, which was adopted after making so many exceptions as to arouse laughter in the senate every time the provision was read.

Senator McLaurin presented an amendment to the rate bill prohibiting greater charges for short than long hauls, and Senator Daniel moved a substitute to cover the situation in Virginia. Both senators spoke in support of their respective provisions, and Mr. McLaurin entered upon a general criticism of the president's course in connection with the rate bill. He declared that the president had entirely changed his position, and predicted the production of a new song to be known as "Roosevelt's Surrender," and to be sung to the tune of "Bonaparte's Retreat." Mr. Daniel's substitute was then voted down and the McLaurin provision immediately Recent efforts of the president and Democratic senators to reach an agreement on the rate bill received further notice in the senate from Senators Bailey and Tillman. The matter was referred to by the Texas senator in the course of a personal explanation called out by articles in two newspapers charging Mr. Bailey with failure to find common ground, and by Mr. Tillman in a speech in support of Mr. Bailey, and in the presenting of a further statement from former Senator Chandler. In his address Mr. Bailey denounced the article in question as a "lie" and the author and inspirer as a liar.

Senator Bailey said: "I intend to put in the Record, upon the statement of more than one reputable newspaper correspondent, that the two chief cuckoos of this administration are the correspondents of the New York Tribune and the Chicago Tribune. And therefore it seems to me conclusive that this slander proceeds from the White House. I hope, for the honor of my country, that it does not proceed from the president himself."

Senator Tillman received from former Senator William E. Chandler a statement of his course as an intermediary in negotiations between President Roosevelt and Senators Tillman and Bailey on the railroad rate bill. The communication bears upon Senator Lodge's denial for the president of Mr. Chandler's statement quoting the president as saying he had lost confidence in Senators Foraker, Spooner and Knox. It was offered in the senate by Senator Tillman and will be printed in the Congressional Record. In the statement Mr. Chandler says: "As the telephonic denial by President Roosevelt sent to the senate through Senator Lodge remains in the Congressional Record of May 12 it seems to me that I should take some notice of it which I do now by reaffirming the essential truth of the statement I made to you, and which you repeated in the senate."

The above is the list of officers elected at the annual convention of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Urichville district of the M. E. church which was held in West Lafayette Tuesday and Wednesday.

The offices of secretary of literature and secretary of Standard Bearer were created by this convention, and Mrs. St. Clair, who was elected to the latter one was obliged to decline it. The vacancy will be filled by appointment by Mrs. Hendershot.

Mrs. Henthorne of Urichville and Miss Burch of this city were elected delegates, and Mrs. Fisher of West Lafayette was elected one of this city alternates to the convention which will be held in the fall in East Liverpool, Ohio.

The sessions of the convention were well attended by missionary workers from all over the district and the program was

Full of Good Things

It has already been published in The Age and a feature to which the Coshocton delegation points with particular pride is the fact that they raised $125 last year for foreign missionary work.

An unusually interesting feature of the Wednesday afternoon session was the address delivered by Mrs. Lena Leonard Fisher on "The Importance of Training Our Children Along Missionary Lines." Mrs. Fisher is a delightful speaker and the sentiments which she voiced were so practical and voiced in such a charming way that she was given the closest attention from the beginning of her address to the end.

Mrs. St. Clair was given an important place on the program and read extracts from a number of the letters Miss Finlay has written in regard to her work. These Letters were supplemented with a talk by Mrs. I. J. Baker, in which incidents of Miss Finlay's home life in Japan, as told to her family here, were given.

The afternoon program also included a short talk on conditions in Africa by Mrs. Mohn of Urichville and one on "What the Auxiliary Owes the Children" by Mrs. J. B. Westhafer. Mrs. Halstead of Steubenville gave a short business talk on the financial condition of the district.

The Wednesday evening session closed the convention the address being made by the Rev. Emory Beetham after which the convention adjourned to meet next spring in Scioto.

The ladies all speak in the most enthusiastic terms of the manner in which they were entertained and the hospitality which the West Lafayette ladies extended was graciousness itself.

PHILIPP HUFF NOT HEARD FROM

No word has been received from Philipp Huff the Fresno merchant who so completely disappeared this week. The Age learns that before Huff left Tuesday he called on the representative of The Age at Fresno and left the notice that was given Wednesday that he would not pay any bills contacted by his wife and paid for the notice in advance. He said nothing about going away and gave no intimation of it. Fresno is still greatly agitated of the affair and many are anxious advanced for the notice merchant.

File Factory And Board of Trade To Have Definite Session Tonight Both Newcomerstown And Canal Dover Are Awake And Offer To Fulfill All Conditions---Plant Wants To Come Here

Coshocton and the Jamestown file factory will either make or break tonight. It is down to the point where the hair is short. President Himebaugh has called a meeting of the board of trade for 7:30 sharp tonight at Secretary Boyd's office.

Newcomerstown telephoned The Age Thursday morning that at a big and enthusiastic mass meeting of citizens Wednesday night the file factory deal had been agreed upon sealed and all but delivered; that the town had agreed to give a free site, a bonus of $5000 and to take $15,000 worth of stock.

Messrs. Lewis and Hjorth of the company arrived in Coshocton Thursday morning and for an hour were closeted with President Himebaugh of the board of trade and stated definitely that they Newcomerstown says she is ready to fill her side of the bill and so does Canal Dover, but no acceptance has been made. In fact the gentlemen state they prefer Coshocton to any town they have visited. It is likely that at the board meeting tonight the matter of stock subscription will be taken up, and also the board will select a representative to go to Jamestown and investigate the plant before closing any proposition.

POLL PARROT THE CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Caused Workmen to Dig Hours In An Earthquake Wreck.

Harry B. Dencer has received a letter from George B. Daugherty of Salinas City, Calif., the gentleman who sent The Age the pictures that are displayed in C. M. Hay's window, and in it he tells some interesting anecdotes of the earthquake. In a portion of the letter he says:

One of the insane asylums located near San Jose collapsed and 112 persons were killed and many others injured. A large force of workmen were put at work at once who uncovered the bodies of many who were injured or pinned under the wreck. At one end of the building the workmen heard a voice calling out "hurry up" and every moment it was repeated, "hurry up" so they got all the workmen possible to that place and they "hurried up" all they could for several hours as it was a five story building, it took a long time to accomplish much but the voice then busy and finally they succeeded in raising a section of flooring and there they found a parrot, the cause of all their "hurry up."

Further in his letter Mr. Daugherty says that in almost every instance where buildings were wrecked in Salinas, it was shown to be the result of faulty construction where the contractors had used sand mortar without cement. He says people will be more particular in the future. He relates an incident where a man and his wife from Nebraska arrived in Stockton the morning of the earthquake to make that city their home. They declared they would not remain where their lives were in danger and started back east. On the way they were caught in a cyclone and killed.

ONE OF THOSE ROVING MANIACS IS CAPTURED

Coshocton people who have been nervous at nights since The Age printed the story of two desperate lunatics being at large may now breathe half easy for one has been caught. The Columbus Dispatch says:

"Bob" Reynolds, who escaped from the Columbus state hospital April 28, in company with Ralph Doty, has been arrested in Upper Sandusky, charged with horse-stealing. The thefts were committed in Erie county. Reynolds is alleged to have a mania for thieving of this kind.

From the description that was sent to the authorities at the hospital, there seems to be no doubt that the man under arrest is the fugitive. Steve Fisher, the attendant upon the ward from which the escape was made, was sent, Wednesday morning to bring Reynolds back. No clue has as yet been found to the whereabouts of Doty.

JACK THE SPITTER DOES MEAN TRICK

Uhrichsville business men are up in arms. Some miserable miscreant has made it a practice to spit tobacco on show windows at night.

Loyd Wine Still at Work.
Loyd Wine is still doing good work as special game warden is bringing many violators of the game and fish laws before the courts of justice. He recently had occasion to participate in a shooting affray at Lewistown reservoir, Logan county, where the law breakers fired on the game wardens but were repulsed after about 50 shots were fired.—Adamsville Register.

ONE FIRM TO BUILD NINE BRIDGES

The Construction Department of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, have notified Contractor W. M. Brode & Son for the erection of a series of concrete bridges on the Marietta Division has been accepted, and those gentlemen will begin the work within the next five days.

Four of these bridges will be constructed near Birds Run, one in the neighborhood of Cambridge, and four others are located between Bysville and Marietta.—Newcomerstown Index.

A Ruse That Failed.

St. Louis, May 17.—John Dineen, policeman, and witness in a police court case, was convicted of perjury and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Dineen's defense was that when the oath was administered to witnesses he stooped over and tied his shoestrings and thereby avoided raising his hand and taking the oath, and therefore he was not a sworn witness. He testified that it was a common practice of policemen to bend over and fumble with their shoestrings when they wished to keep from being sworn.

Headless Body Found.

Granite City, Ill., May 17.—The headless body of a man was found in a cesspool in the rear of a saloon not far from where John Hickey, an overland traveler to Oklahoma, was sand-bagged and killed last week. The body was brought to an undertaking establishment here. The absence of the head, it is believed, indicates that the man was murdered by an injury to the head, and it was removed to prevent identification. No other marks of violence were found.

Captured in British Territory.

Berlin, May 17.—The German consul general at Cape Town cabled the German colonial office that the Cape police had captured Morengo, the leader of the rebellion in German Southwest Africa, and several of his warriors, in British territory and had taken them to Uppington, Cape Colony.

ADAM POTTER IS BADLY HURT

Molten Lead Burns His Foot While at Work In The Pen.

A hot mass of molten lead dropped upon the left foot of Adam Potter, serving 18 months in the penitentiary for robbery, from Coshocton county, while he was at work in Hatcher's foundry at the Columbus prison Wednesday morning, causing the convict great suffering. The foot was dressed at the hospital where it was found that it would be unnecessary to amputate the member. Potter will remain in the hospital until he is well.

A Distressing Sight

What is so distressing a sight as a poor half sick, starved, nervous young man or woman suffering from indigestion? They do not consider themselves ill enough to go to bed, but they are far from being able to work without the greatest exhaustion. This is a very common sight and is always due to indigestion.

Suffered Since a Child

Mrs. Emma C. Kunkle, 404 Willow St., Zanesville, O., says: "I suffered since a child with terrible spells with my stomach. I could not eat fruits or anything that I craved. Many times I thought I would die with such severe pain. After trying many doctors without any relief, I purchased a box of Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powders. The first dose gave me relief and I began to improve and I can see now after three months use of these powders that I have not one particle of pain and I eat everything." They saved her because they supplied what was lacking in weak stomach, gave a coating over the irritated mucous membrane, digested the food, prevented fermentation and being in powder form they dissolved in her weak stomach and gave instant relief. Sold by all druggists 55 doses 50 cts.; 100 doses $1.00. For free medical advice address A. L. Jackson, M. D., 101 West of The Jackson Medicine Co., Zanesville, Ohio.

BATTLE FOUGHT

Between Union and Nonunion Men. Troops on Duty.

Coeymans, N. Y., May 17.—What is practically martial law reigns in this little town on the west bank of the Hudson river, 12 miles south of Albany. The strike of the brickmakers in force all along the Hudson broke into riot here, and after a clash between the 500 union strikers and nearly as many negro nonunion men, in which one man was severely wounded, Sheriff Pitts arrived from Albany. He decided that he and his deputy could not suppress the riot, and four Albany companies of militia, about 250 strong, constituting the Second battalion of the Tenth regiment, were ordered to Coeymans. Negroes are imported only in the spring for extra work, and they refuse as a rule to join the union for the short time they are here. The main demand of the strikers is for recognition of the union by the employment only of its members.

Taft Urges Government Cable.

Washington, May 17.—Secretary Taft urged before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce the military necessity of a government cable to Guantanamo, Cuba, Porto Rico and the isthmus of Panama. "We are proceeding upon the theory that we are to fortify the Panama canal," he said. "We have already had a report from the artillery and engineering board as to the fortifications to be made there. It is said the canal ought to be neutral, but it will be necessary to have fortifications to protect it against those who may not observe the neutrality. With the conditions there as they are and the United States under the responsibility of suppressing insurrections and in a country where they have insurrections once a year, it makes communication a necessity." The total cost of a cable to touch at Cuba, Porto Rico and Panama, he said, was estimated at $1,300,000.

Will Local Officers Lose Jobs?

The recent circuit court ruling in Hamilton county that men cannot hold two offices at the same time has greatly interested local office holders. The only two men struck by the decision is City Solicitor Williams who is also a justice of the peace for Tuscarawas township, and W. S. Hutchinson, member and clerk of the board of public service and member of the school board. Squire Williams gives it as his opinion that the ruling affects only county officers, and then only salaried ones.

SEA LEVEL CANAL AHEAD

Senate Committee Favors It
For Panama Route.

Washington, May 17.—The decision of the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals is in favor of a sea-level canal across the isthmus of Panama. Senator Carmack's return from Tennessee gave the sea-level advocates a majority of one vote, and consequently Chairman Millard was the only one of the minority faction who attended the meeting. There was no other business before the committee, and it remained in session just long enough to authorize Senator Kittredge to make the report to be presented to the senate as soon as the minority may have an opportunity to present their arguments for a lock canal. Two reports will be made at the same time. The vote was made on a resolution on the report by Senator Kittredge, declaring it to be the sense of the committee that the construction of a sea-level canal can be recommended. On the motion the affirmative votes were Messrs. Platt, Kittredge, Ankeny, Morgan, Carmack and Tallafiero. Chairman Millard voted in the negative. Senators Knox, Hopkins, Simmons and Dryden were not present. All of these are supporters of the lock type.

Denver Election.

Denver, Colo., May 17.—On the face of the returns the 20-year franchise sought by the Denver City Tramway and the Denver Gas and Electric companies were carried at the election by small majorities. The initiative ordinance reducing water and light rates, submitted by the Municipal Ownership league, was carried. The new board of aldermen will consist of eight Democrats, six Republicans and two municipal ownership members.

SECRET RATES.

Standard Oil Company Not Benefited, Say the Directors.

New York, May 17.—The Standard Oil company issued to its shareholders a statement in reply to the special message recently sent to congress by President Roosevelt and the report on the country's oil industry by Commissioner Garfield of the bureau of corporations which accompanied it. The statement is signed by C. M. Pratt, secretary, and was issued by order of the board of directors. It denies positively the charge that the Standard Oil company benefited by secret rates for the transportation of its products.

The directors say: "The company owns and controls only a very moderate percentage of the crude production of the United States, and with at least 125 rival refineries in existence it is a palpable absurdity to call it a monopoly. For the last quarter of a century more than 60 per cent of its output has been shipped to foreign countries. In creating and sustaining this vast foreign trade the company has encountered innumerable obstacles and incessant competition from other industries possessing the advantage of geographical location and cheaper labor, and which are oftentimes developed under the fostering care of their respective governments. If the company maintains a gratifying percentage of the world's commerce it is because it keeps its agreements and delivers products of reliable quality at reasonable prices. Whatever measure of prosperity it has enjoyed is not traceable to illegal or reprehensible methods, but to its economic and elaborate industrial organization, covering as it does every detail of transportation, manufacture and administration."

Gems In Verse

"He Goeth by Me, and I See Him Not." Life is a game of hide and seek. We played it first, unskilled and weak. And when we hid, for all our care, He came at once and found us there.

And so through youth we played it still And hid from him and hid our will; Only he found us slower then; We had the strength, the skill of men.

And next it was his turn to hide, And was it carelessness or pride? Was he so quick or we so blind? We sought him, and we could not find.

And we are old, and still we play, But have not found him, and today The game is only not despair Because we know he must be there. —Hugh Macnaghten.

ONE COW IS THE BUSY MILKER

Professor Decker, head of the dairy department at the Ohio State university, tells of a cow named Ray Apple's Albuquerque, N. M., who has smashed all the records in milk producing. In a week's test she gave 520 pounds of milk, or an average of nearly nine gallons of milk a day.

These tests are made for the state by the agricultural department of Ohio State university and when the tests prove competence the cow is registered, in this case in the Holstein and Friesian association. This increases the value of a cow at least $50 and often more.—Columbus Dispatch.

Monnett Talks.
Lima, O., May 17.—Former Attorney General Frank S. Monnett was here in quest of evidence to be used before the interstate commerce commission, which resumes its investigation of the Standard Oil company at Cleveland next week. Mr. Monnett admitted that he as well as General E. B. Finley, also one of the attorneys in the ouster suits, are both candidates for the long term railway commissioner ship, for which position he said Judge Tobias is likewise a candidate. Judge Tobias is an uncle by marriage to Mr. Monnett.

LIKE A BALL OF FIRE
SUN SHONE OVER FRISCO

Mrs. Angeline Harger Writes And Tells of Her Experience In Earthquake.

The Reamer family of Canal Lewisville is in receipt of an interesting letter from their sister Mrs. Harger who went through the harrowing scenes at San Francisco. A portion of the letter follows:

San Francisco, Cal., April 27, 1906.

Dear brothers and sisters and everybody. Your troubles came in the way of death but let your grief pass, and never grieve again for think what you have missed. We did not get hurt but lost all but a part of our bed clothes and part of our clothes. Those we dragged along as well as we could to get a place of safety, but was headed off twice by the fierce fire and had to take another direction only to meet with fire again. We dragged some trunks with what things we could grab. Lost all the furniture of seven rooms and all our mattress and as we were running a dress making place we lost two machines, had three in the house. Dragged one with us and that we saved. All this time it was nothing but confusion, some going this way and some another; could not hear a word of warning that was sent around. Water pipes were destroyed and could not get a bit of water, finally they went to blowing up houses with dynamite. The one we occupied was blown up. That was our good luck. We were ordered out, otherwise we might have all been burned. I tell you we were all played out, but had to go again well there at Ninth street we struck a man with an old horse and little wagon, got him to haul us to our own home which stands out in what is called the mission, that is about as far from your home to Lewisville. We had to give him five dollars. Just had those few things but we were glad to get him. Out few bed clothes came good to us that night for we had to lie out of doors—was afraid to stay in the house for every little while we would feel a shake, we could see to read anything that night the distance we were hauled. The fire burned for two days and nights on the third day towards evening they got it under control. The night we laid out side, my face and head was wet with fog, the second day officers came around and made all that had a house or could get one was made to go in, but we did not sleep, we had two of our roomers with us, but we did not care any more for them, than they were of our own family, we all laid down in a row to keep warm, a good thing it is not very cold here. We couldn't have any light for three nights. On the 20th we could have a little fire outside to cook a little and make a little warm drink, if you were lucky enough to have the article to make; every family that had a stove set it out in the street. In one instance a house went down till the upper story was level with the side walk, no one got out and I saw with my own eyes one house collapse killing the entire family. I saw them bringing out the bodies. Oh God what a sight! I did not want to see any more like that, but what I saw after and went through is enough to make one crazy if they let there minds dwell on it. It is awful to be upon a hill and look down.

The morning of the earthquake I was lying awake in bed about 5:30 when all of a sudden the house trembled. My granddaughter was sleeping with me and when the house shook violently she awoke with a yell and grabbed on to me and held me tight. I struggled but she hung tight I tell you it was a good thing she did hold me for at first I would have went out the window and that would have been death to me for it was very high, while I lay in bed the pictures on the wall went just like you would take a hold of it and push them back and forth with a terrible noise we went around the house to see how much damage was done. Oh what a sight our kitchen was—plastering all over, stove knocked down chimney down, dishes on the floor, and broke. I found that big red plate that mother use to have and the one Lulu gave me when I was there, that is all the dishes I found. O! yes a glass pitcher was left standing on the shelf where everything else was thrown to the floor. I took my two plates, went in the bed room, I grabbed that picture of Aunt Betsy's off the wall and the picture of Henry's house and some of those pictures of our family that was taken while I was there.

I sent sister Emma a small piece of paper with a line or two as soon as I could the next day. I just folded it and pinned the corner over. The postmaster said it would go through all right, said they had sent lots like it already, so he put it in the mail, her address was the only one I could think of.

Some of the irons of the car tracks was torn up and twisted together and stood up as high as your knees it was wonderful to see how things were left. The sun that morning was just like a big ball of fire, such a sight I never saw and never wish to see another. This is all true and a great deal more. Goodbye.

Mrs. Angeline Harger.

No Operation

Mrs. Malinda Akers, of Basham, Va., writes: "I had what doctors call 'prolapse,' and couldn't stand straight. I had pain in my back and shoulders, and was very irregular and profuse. Doctors said an operation was needed, but I couldn't bear the thought of the knife. After taking three bottles of Wine of Cardui, I could walk around. Can now do my housework and am in splendid health."

Cardui is a pure, vegetable, medicinal essence, especially adapted to cure women's diseases. It relieves excessive periodical pains, regulates irregularities, and is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy for all sick women. In successful use for over 70 years. Try it.

Bartenders Bit Dust Before Mighty Swats of The Clerks

The clerks are still the possessors of the title, "Champeens" of the city" having vanquished the bartenders in a hard fought game at Riverside park, Wednesday afternoon. The contest was a close and exciting one and the game was by no means decided until the last half of the last inning.

As was expected the bartenders put up a valiant battle and at the close of the first half of the last inning, the score was tie at 10 to 10. The bartenders' lineup was partially composed of old leaguers and they showed that their ball playing days were not yet over.

The bartenders opened the battle with a rush and before the clerks could get the lay of the land, had crossed the plate twice. The clerks came back but not quite so strong, annexing a single tally. In the second inning the bartenders being ahead, rested on their arms but they soon saw their mistake as the clerks got real busy in their half and when the dust had cleared away, it was found that every man on the batting order had taken a turn at the bat and six of them had chased across the plate.

The clerks then let down for several innings thinking that the game was "checked for them but they reckoned without their host for in the sixth session the bartenders started in to do things. Everybody took a crack at the horseshoe. The bases were filled when Dan Lewis walked to the plate and with one mighty wallop sent the ball into deep center, cleaning the bases. By getting five tallies in this inning, the bartenders boosted their score to 9 and making another in the first half of the seventh, tied the score. The clerks however came back in the last half of the seventh and made the winning tally.

The score follows:

Ed Compton Gives Big Boost To Jim Hagans' Floating Theatre

Ed. Compton says Jim Hagans' show is a peach and he says it under big headlines on the first page of his paper, the News, of Donora, Pa., where the Cooley & Hagans floating theatre anchored the night of May 5. Here is the item printed in Mr. Compton's newspaper:

In spite of chilly, rainy weather Cooley & Hagans' $60,000 floating theatre was the Mecca of the theatre lovers of Donora Tuesday evening and every one who saw the big show pronounced it the best theatre boat on the river. While it was only the second performance the show having opened on Monday night at Elizabeth the vaudeville entertainers are all high classed people and one who did not know would have been unable to realize that they have been together so short a time. The boat itself is a marvel of beauty. Mr. Cooley and Mr. Hagans have spared no efforts or expense to make the boat the best in the business and that they have succeeded even beyond their own hopes and expectations was vouched for by everyone who saw the show last night. The seating capacity is immense and the builders have so constructed the elevations that there is not a bad seat in the house from pit to dome. A special feature has been made of the electrical display and the clusters of arc lights and incandescent bulbs illuminate the theatre resplendently. The interior of the theatre is finished in bright hues and the seats are of rich colored cherry.

Concerning the show itself too much cannot be said. Comedians of the first water make the entertainment one solid laugh. There is nothing heavy about it. Marie Curtis made a great hit with her songs and dances and introduced some exceedingly intricate steps. The Birmingham family are great, especially the little boy and girl who impersonate the Dutchman and Irishwoman. They were called back again and again. The Leisenring family also demonstrated that they are there with the goods. Dewitt and Dewitt, Harris and Nelson, and the Three Auburns are all artists of the stellar variety. "The Holy City" is a beautiful thing illustrated by the motion picture film and last of all came "The Green Goods Man" which makes a fitting finale to the entertainment.

The band is far ahead of those carried by the other show boats and the sixteen musicians made a time appearance in their new uniforms as they marched up McKean avenue yesterday noon. Personally Messrs. Cooley and Hagans are thorough gentlemen and deserving of the patronage of every town they visit. Mr. Hagans has been in the theatrical business for a long time having been with Swallow & Markle four years. Mr. Cooley is a shrewd business man and conservative and fair in all his dealings. That the new boat will make a great reputation with such men at the helm goes without saying. In a short time they will play a return date at Donora and they will be warmly greeted here.

CUT TO THE QUICK.

All the savings banks of San Francisco will reopen for business May 28. Officials of the various institutions declared their banks are in excellent condition.

In a wreck at Fowlerton, Ind., on the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville railroad, Wesley Wolf, engineer, and Ollie Bowman, brakeman, were crushed to death.

Near Bluefield, W. Va., the premature explosion of dynamite on the works of Cahill & Parnell killed John Hill and Edward Elbing and fatally injured another man.

Fire at the assembly grounds, Mont Eagle, Tenn., the Chautauqua of the south, in which all evangelical denominations are represented, destroyed Warner hall and several cottages.

John Mitchell in a dispatch to John H. Winder of Columbus, O., chairman of the "stand pat" operators of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, states that the complete vote of the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America is against acceptance of the proposition offered to submit to arbitration differences affecting wages, together with new issues raised by the operators since adjournment of the joint conference. Mr. Mitchell adds: "Any arbitration that would change differentials fixed by mutual agreement in competitive districts would be unwise and would not conserve satisfactory peace in bituminous industry."
